The exhibition: Salvador Dali and Surrealism of Catalonia

IMPORTANT UPDATE: Earlier it was reported that in early December at the Hermitage, famous paintings will expose the genius of surrealism of Salvador Dali and the most important surrealist painters of Catalonia. However, it was not disclosed the reasons the exhibition moved. Works of art by Salvador Dali and other famous surrealists will still be put on display in the Hermitage but only on March 21st, 2014. So don't miss the opportunity to come out and see these great works of art in person!

In early December, the Hermitage will feature famous paintings from the surrealist genius Salvador Dali, as well as the most important surrealist painters from Catalonia. The exposition will include paintings from the collections of the Dali Museum in Figueres, the Joan Miró Foundation and the National Museum of Catalan Art.

The exhibition "Salvador Dali and Surrealism of Catalonia" opens in the Twelve Hall of the Hermitage at the beginning of December this year. Famous paintings will be on display in the museum until February 16, 2014.

Museums whose collections have made such an exposition in surrealism are particularly famous in Spain and the first one formed in France for 20 years of the last century. It is known that after a quarrel with the flow in Spain, Dali said: "Surrealism - it's me."
